DEPARTMENT OF SEA AND SHORE FISHERIES
MEMORANDUM

Date Feb. 28, 1947

To All Wardens
From Richard E. Reed
Subject Sardines and Lobsters

CHANGE IN SARDINE SEASON

Effective immediately the sardine packing season has been changed from April 15 to December 1 to the new dates of March 1 to December 15th. This change was made by Legislature and is set up to run for two years. It went through as an Emergency Measure.

LOBSTER INFORMATION

It is extremely important that whenever you hear of any trouble that fishermen or dealers are having with their lobsters such as abnormal shrinkage, strange actions or appearances or anything else out of the ordinary that you communicate with the office immediately?

If possible have the lobsters held for examination. We will relay your information to the University of Maine and a biologist will go to the trouble spot to investigate.

Please impress upon the industry the importance of reporting all strange situations. A comprehensive study is being made at the University and the scientists need actual specimens and case histories.

In your regular work keep watching out for lobster trouble and ask the fishermen and dealers to notify you immediately when anything comes up. Always give us the man's name, where the incident occurred and other pertinent data.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Date: April 21, 1948

TO: D. A. McKown, FWS, W. Boothbay Harbor, Maine

FROM: Aquatic Biologist, Pensacola, Florida

SUBJECT: 1947 Herring Production:

Since writing you a memo on March 10, I have made a slight revision to the herring catch for Maine between June 1st and December 13th. The catch by gear now stands:

Weir.....34,845,300 lbs.

Stop seine.....72,325,400

Purse seine..... 6,026,930

The above figures have been obtained from all the sardine canneries, 11 smokers, 7 canners of large herring or dog food (Stevens, No. Atlantic, McKinley, Herrick & Allen, Burnham & Morrill, Davis Bros., and Medomak Pkg.), 3 fish meal plants (Me. Fish Meal of Portland, Me. Fish Meal of Rockland, and Whitmoyer's), 2 picklers (Stanley Fish and Delca Food Products), 2 freezers (O'Hara's of Portland and Central Cold Storage), and one trucker (Brown Bros.).

The quantities of herring used by other than sardine canneries is:

Fish meal.....3,154,410 lbs.

Smoked.....2,902,130

Canned Herring and dog food....3,518,550

Total.....11,512,060 lbs.

Pickled.....1,663,480

Fresh or Frozen..... 273,490

In the above, I do not consider the oval sardines put up by Riviera as "canned herring", but classify them as sardines. Also, some of the sardine factories, such as the 2 Underwood plants, Addison, Stinson, and Lyon's have their own fish meal plants. If they had condemned lots of fish (as they did on a number of occasions), I did not separate the amounts from the total fish handled by the factories. In other words, the quantity of herring going into fish meal is that which was taken directly from the fishermen to the fish meal plant.

As I mentioned before, I have not been able to include 532,980 pounds handled by Juliano Bros. and Boston Comm. Co. to the above totals, because I lack information on the gear, fishermen, date, and outlet.

I think you will be interested in the summary of the catch by weeks:

Week ending	Bushels	Week ending	Bushels
6/7	72	9/20	75,439
6/14	4,386	9/27	48,178
6/21	7,777	10/4	65,506
6/28	38,387	10/11	75,702
7/5	34,485	10/18	122,528
7/12	44,666	10/25	94,849
7/19	80,211	11/1	31,592
7/26	86,078	11/8	42,330
8/2	102,219	11/15	13,572
8/9	96,875	11/22	40,478
8/16	94,267	11/29	11,043
8/23	113,053	12/6	8,241
8/30	104,908	12/13	4,044
9/6	74,670
9/13	101,553	TOTAL	1,617,109

Please excuse this letter, if it seems to be rambling about. I just happened to think that you might wonder why I contacted only 11 smokers. I found that the smokers in Eastport purchased their fish from the canneries and that I could not separate the fish being used for sardines and those being smoked. However, as the cannery records were obtained, there would be no leak. 10 of the smokers interviewed were in Lubec; the other was Stevens in Jonesport. There was another smoker in Lubec, a H. Kelley, whom I was unable to see, so did not secure his figures on amount of Maine fish handled, if any.

I divided the coast up into 13 areas to facilitate the recognition of geographical variations in the catch. The areas were rather arbitrary in nature, but seem to represent geographically natural sections to some extent.

Below are the boundaries of the areas and the catch in bushels:

V. Calais to Lubec	89,236
VI. Lubec to Cape Wash.	192,166
VII. Cape Wash-Wallace Point, South Addison	157,498
VIII. Wallace Point - Schoodic Point, Winter Harbor	100,767
IX. Schoodic Point - Bass Harbor Head, McKinley, including Frenchman Bay.	102,729
X. Bass Harbor Head - Naskeag Point, including Blue Hill Bay, Marshall Id. Swans Id., and Long Id.	202,817
XI. Naskeag Point - Cape Rosier, including Deer Id, Isle au Haut.	33,723
XII. Cape Rosier - Bucksport - Belfast - North east Point, Camden, including Long Id and Lasell Id.	20,970
XIII. North Haven Id, Vinalhaven Id., Northeast Pt., Camden - Jameson Pt., Rockland.	43,466
XIV. Jameson Pt. - Marshall Pt., Port Clyde, including Muscle Ridges, Metinic Id., Green Ids. and islands of Matinicus group.	63,703
XV. Marshall Pt. - Pemaquid Pt., including Monhegan Id.	183,986
XVI. Pemaquid Pt., -Small Pt.	177,004
XVII. Small Pt. - Richmond Id, South Portland.	249,044

TOTAL 1,617,109

The catch in XVII was largely made by seiners from areas XV and XVI. For example, Harvey Barlow, Wm. Jones, Clint Barlow, Leland Snowman, and Leslie Brewer live in area XVI, but moved to XVII (in their boats, of course, not permanently) when the fish struck in Casco Bay. Also Harold Morton of area XV moved to XVII when the fish schooled there. There are numerous cases like that, all along the coast, so if the wardens contact the fishermen to learn the quantities caught and then credit the amounts to the section or county where the fishermen live, rather than fish, the wardens' reports should differ considerably from the above.

You will bear in mind that I have not tried to secure any figures for amounts of herring diverted into lobster bait. I trust you will be able to get some idea as to the quantity.

From now on I guess you're on your own. Unless, of course, I can be of further help. I hope you can get the matter straightened out, so that the FWS report for 1947 herring production will not be 82,000,000.

/s/ Les

STATE OF MAINE

DEPARTMENT OF SEA AND SHORE FISHERIES

VICKERY-HILL BUILDING

AUGUSTA

June 30, 1950

TO ALL LICENSED HERRING SEINERS, WEIRMEN AND FACTORY OPERATORS:

This letter is being sent to all licensed herring seiners, weirmen and factory operators to clarify two important matters which have been brought to the attention of the Department.

RELEASING OR DUMPING HERRING AFTER SCALING

We have received reports of instances whereby herring have been put through scaling devices and then returned to the ocean. It is very evident that the fish cannot live long after such handling and therefore create a menace to the future of the fishery. Several hundred bushels of dead fish on the bottom of a cove or inlet can ruin a weir privilege or seining location for years to come.

Section 47, Chapter 34, of our fisheries laws plainly states that no dead fish, or fish that have been smothered or injured so that they will die, shall be released or deposited in any of the bays, harbors, or rivers of this State. The penalty is a fine of $100, or 30 days in jail, or both. The possible loss of license is also involved.

Although the department fully appreciates the desire of fishermen to convert their catches into money through the sale of scales or otherwise, it appears that strict enforcement of this law is necessary for the future welfare of the sardine industry.

THE SMOTHERING OF HERRING

During periods of a dull market for fish we receive reports that thousands of bushels of herring are left to smother or die in seines and weirs. We would like to again point out that many good fishing areas have been ruined for years by such misfortunes. It is certainly to the future benefit of all fishermen to prevent such occurrences when possible.

These matters have been discussed with members of the Sea and Shore warden force and we sincerely hope that everyone in the industry will cooperate for the protection of our great herring resource.

Sincerely yours,

Richard E. Reed
Commissioner

LIST OF MEASURED HERRING CARRIERS

Following is a list of herring carriers which have been measured in accordance with Chapter 325 of the Public Laws of 1949. Measurement has been made under the direction of the Commissioner of Agriculture and inquiries regarding this matter should be referred to Deputy State Sealer of Weights and Measures James A. Boyle, State House, Augusta, Maine.

Although measuring is a responsibility of Agriculture, enforcement of the law has been placed in the hands of Sea and Shore and that department has prepared and distributed this list as a service to the industry.
